

ROANOKE HIGHER EDUCATION CENTER FACT SHEET

OPENED: August 2000

MISSION: The Roanoke Higher Education Center develops partnerships and maintains a state-of-the-art facility that provides citizens of the Roanoke Region access to training, certifications and degrees.

LEADERSHIP: Board of Trustees
Senator John S. Edwards, Chair
Dr. Kay Dunkley, Executive Director

CAMPUS: The main building is located in the former headquarters of the Norfolk and Western Railroad in the heart of downtown Roanoke.

Across from the main building, the Claude Moore Education Complex opened in 2007 to house Virginia Western Community College's culinary arts degree program.

PROGRAMS: More than 200 programs of study including both undergraduate and graduate degree programs, certificates, endorsements, licenses and workforce training.

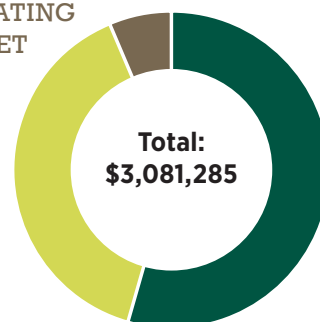

DEGREES & CERTIFICATES: Nearly 10,000 degrees and certificates awarded since opening in 2000.

SPECIAL FACILITIES: Culinary Arts Laboratory, Clinical Simulation Center, Full Service Library, Computer Labs and Café.

EDUCATIONAL MEMBERS:

CodeVA
Commonwealth Learning Systems
Dabney S. Lancaster Community College
James Madison University
Mary Baldwin University
Old Dominion University
Radford University
Region 5 Adult Education
TAP This Valley Works
Virginia Commonwealth University
Virginia Tech
Virginia Western Community College

OPERATING BUDGET 2022:

PROVIDED BY:

State Appropriation
$1,684,007
Lease Revenue
$1,207,096
Revenue from Gifts and Other Sources
$190,182

ECONOMIC IMPACT:

$10 million in annual economic impact to the region.

ROANOKE HIGHER EDUCATION CENTER FOUNDATION:

The RHEC Foundation is a 501(c)(3) educational foundation dedicated to enhancing the mission of the Roanoke Higher Education Authority. To learn more about the many ways to support the RHEC Foundation, please contact Kaitlyn Van Buskirk, Development Officer, at (540) 767-6292 or visit education.edu.